

You are the glorious reflection of Love You are from before all Beginnings
You remain beyond all endings The Infinite is your dwelling place
The eternal your home
You are an infinite being experiencing Love through this finite journey
Who is from Love, for Love and unto love
Nothing has ever separated you from the Presence of Love
No word, no action, no thought could ever diminish your favor in love
Every particle of your being is a lover, reflecting Love's Light
You Beloved, are altogether lovely No blemish, no flaw
You are a brilliant experience of Love's Light
Shining from Eternity into the shadows of this finite world
The shadows of this world serve as beautiful background of your Light
These shadows are not even worthy to be compared
To the Glory of Love being revealed through you
You are Love, here on this planet, in your place, at this time
As a perfect reflection of Divine Love
Beloved, love one another. Love everything For you are of Love
Everyone who loves is born anew in Love's Light each morning
You are loves feet Go You are Loves hands Touch
You are Loves voice Speak
Hear me Beloved Love is all there is
So all things are loving you
Every condition of your life is loving you into Loves Presence
Every relationship is loving you into Loves Light
In Love we live and move and have our very being
O, Beloved, you are Love I Am Love
We are ever, madly, wildly, passionately In Love
I Love you
I ever love you
